How do I know what to click?

The cursor will change to a pointing hand when positioned over a selectable or rollover graphic. Also, bold, blue text is generally selectable and allows you to view more information about a topic.

Always read the instructions in the prompt area at the bottom of each page to ensure that you don't miss any information.

When I click a link or a graphic, nothing happens. Why?

You may need to set your browser to allow popups in order for some information to appear. If you are using the Google toolbar in your browser, you may hold the Ctrl key and select the item at the same time, which allows the popup window to open. In Internet Explorer, you can adjust the settings for blocking popups by selecting Internet Options from the Tools menu, then clicking the Privacy tab.

Many of the graphics in the course are selectable. The cursor will also change to a pointing hand when positioned over a selectable graphic.
